What to look for when buying a block of land

Buying a block of land on which to build a house is often the Australian dream. There's nothing quite like coming home to that brand new home feeling where you've created a haven that's designed to enhance your family's unique lifestyle. But before you buy a vacant lot – rather than a house and land package – do know that there are a few extra factors to consider. Have a read below of Resi-Ventures' block-buying checklist.

- 1. Location, location, location. Is your block close enough to shops, schools and public transport? Perhaps your family needs the convenience of parks, sporting facilities or medical centres nearby. Are there firm plans for these amenities to be developed in the near future?
- 2. Extra building restrictions placed on your block by your developer in addition to council regulations such as the style of the house, materials used, the maximum allowable height or even how many cars you can park in the street and for how long. These will be in the design guidelines.
- 3. Find out what future roads and infrastructure is planned through your local council, this can definitely have a positive impact on convenience and liveability.
- 4. Understand what easements apply to your block. These will determine the size and shape of your new home.
- 5. Building on a sloped block can add more costs in terms of digging and retaining walls. So look for land that is as flat as possible to save some funds. It's also easier to build on a block that's a regular shape like a square or rectangle.
